DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Species F (Figures 14A-16) in the reply filed on 6/28/2007 is acknowledged.

Claims 6-8 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is no antecedent basis for "the locking aperture" in line 21 of claim 1. There is no antecedent basis for "the latch" in line 26 of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shaw (6,210,371). Shaw discloses a medical device comprising a hollow housing (12) having an aperture (29) in a wall of the housing, the aperture forming a rim, a needle (34) having a sharpened tip operable between an extended position in which the sharpened tip is exposed for use (Figure 1) and a retracted position (Figure 5) in which the needle is shielded against inadvertent contact, a biasing element (52) biasing the needle toward the retracted position, a needle hub (32) having a cylindrical body axially displaceable within the housing between a forward position and a rearward position, the needle hub having a central bore for receiving the needle, wherein the needle is fixedly attached to the needle hub, the needle hub further comprising a connector (48) adjacent the rearward end of the hub configured for providing a fluid tight connection between a fluid line and the needle, a needle retainer (27) releasably retaining the needle in the projecting position against the bias of the biasing element, comprising a radially deformable arm (58) attached to the needle hub and projecting radially outwardly from the needle hub, and an actuator (60) disposed at the end of the arm releasably engaging the rim of the locking aperture and having a surface directly manually operable from outside the housing, wherein depressing the actuator releases the needle whereupon the biasing element displaces the needle hub into the rearward position, a locking flange (50) projecting radially outwardly from the needle hub, axially spaced from the latch of the needle retainer, a locking latch (68) projecting radially inwardly from the wall of the housing, wherein the latch is configured to engage the locking flange to impede rearward axial movement of the needle hub is displaced into the rearward position, and a forward stop (40) operable to impede forward axial movement of the needle hub after the needle hub is displaced into the rearward position, wherein the forward stop is deformed radially as the needle hub is displaced from the forward position to the rearward position, wherein the biasing element has a biasing force with an upper limit and a lower limit, wherein the forward edge forms part of the forward stop, and further comprising a pair of wings (30). It is the Examiner's position that Shaw discloses the method disclosed by the Applicant.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-5 and 9-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,641,555. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the differences in the claims do not break the threshold of patentability.
